Introduction

The development of the Gladiolus is a matter of recent history, mostly taking place within the past few years, and still in active progress. In that time the long-familiar scarlet has been extended through the spectrum, and from the purest white of Carmen Sylvia to an almost true black of Empress of India, though the blues are as yet rather too lightly represented. The Primulinus Hybrids range from the palest primrose to a deep red, their African heredity showing in a persistent trend toward the yellows, which are more numerous. Among the variegated sorts nearly everything imaginable in dots, lines, stripes, bands, and irregular splotches, delicate almost to invisibility or startlingly vivid, and in a bewildering variety of combinations, may be found.

The variations of form and size of bloom have become so great that the small flowered Pink Beauty and giant flowered Mrs. W. B. Davis, the compact Schwaben and the spreading Elora, the smooth Mrs. Frank Pendleton and the highly-ruffled Crinkles seem like different species.

Developed traits, now fixed, and naturally governing the seasons of various sorts, give us each year, at Edgewater, a constant succession of bloom, starting in June with Wilbrinck, Elora and Halley and ending in October with Red Canna, Peace, Sentinel until frost. Many varieties, such as Wilbrinck, Rubini, Majestic, and Marcheeta usually send up two or more spikes, flowering successively, while the season of any one may be lengthened by varying the depth and time of planting.

In buying bulbs, size is no criterion, as many choice sorts do not produce large bulbs. The essentials are that the bulbs be well developed, firm, healthy, and of blooming age, which large ones are often past.

We list mainly proven varieties, which it is unlikely that new ones will ever displace, though believing new ones well worth trying. If expense must be carefully considered a wealth of bloom and much satisfaction can be had from the mixtures. But if able to indulge the tastes any buyer is sure to feel well repaid in the possession of Mrs. W. B. Davis, Mildred Adeline, Mrs. L. Douglas, G. Farrar, Sterling, Alice May, W. H. Phipps, Bengal Tiger, etc.

ROY E. SHELLEY.

EDGEWATER GIFT BOXES

Make very attractive and lasting remembrances for your friends. A gift that grows gives greater pleasure than cut flowers as the receiver has the enjoyment of planting and the satisfaction of watching the plants grow.

The box contains a baker's dozen, one each of thirteen varieties, not labeled, but if bought named would cost considerable more. All large flowered varieties.

The wrapper shows eleven varieties in color and gives directions for planting.

Price each, postpaid, 75 cents.

HOW TO GROW GLADIOLI FOR BLOOM AND FOR BULBS

Gladioli will grow and produce fine bloom in any good garden soil, if given plenty of sun. A sandy soil is best, a clay soil poorest. If it must be fertilized, let this be done in the fall. Fresh manure will scald the bulbs if it comes in contact with them.

Set the bulbs 4 to 6 inches deep and 6 inches apart. Deep planting keeps the spike erect at blooming time, and the plants stand drouth better. By planting every 10 days after danger of frost is over, until July, you will have full bloom until frost.

Keep weeds out. Keep a dust mulch around the plants in dry weather. Do not water Gladioli except in extreme dry weather and at blooming time for the reason that if you begin watering you must keep it up until the season is over. Cut the spike when the first bud is unrolled. Leave 3 or 4 leaves to help mature the bulb. Cut off half an inch of spike when renewing the water each morning—nearly all the buds will open and you will have a beautiful bouquet for ten days.

The bulbs should be taken up in October before the ground freezes and dried thoroughly. Cut the foliage close to the bulb. When dry, store them in a cellar away from frost and not too dry.

If these instructions are followed, the bulbs will give you the best results for several years. The old roots may be broken off any time before planting.

If you will advise as to character of soil, grounds, etc., we will send specific instructions to fit your conditions.

Beautiful Game Birds

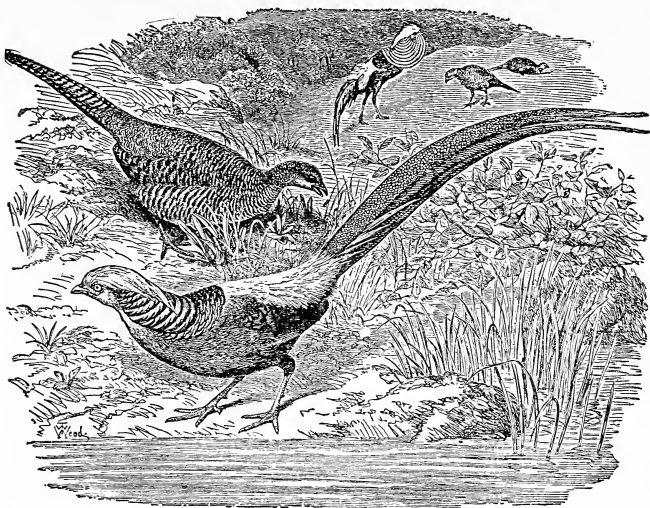

Always keenly interested in the natural beauty of our surroundings and in the wild life that is capable of adding so much to our enjoyment, we have for a number of years been rearing game birds here at Edgewater, purely for our own pleasure.

Now we are ready to invite you to share this pleasure. These birds of beautiful plumage are, in effect, animated flowers, which, moving about your grounds, however shyly, will be a source of joy that must be experienced to be appreciated.

The varieties of pheasants listed thrive under the conditions adapted to poultry. If one wing is clipped to prevent flying, they can be confined in a pen without a wire top. One cock can be mated with from three to five hens, although for a start, a pair of each kind will do perfectly.

Pheasant hens lay during the spring months and we set their eggs under ordinary chickens or bantam hens. Pheasants will get very tame if you make pets of them. They are perfectly hardy, no special shelter being necessary in winter.

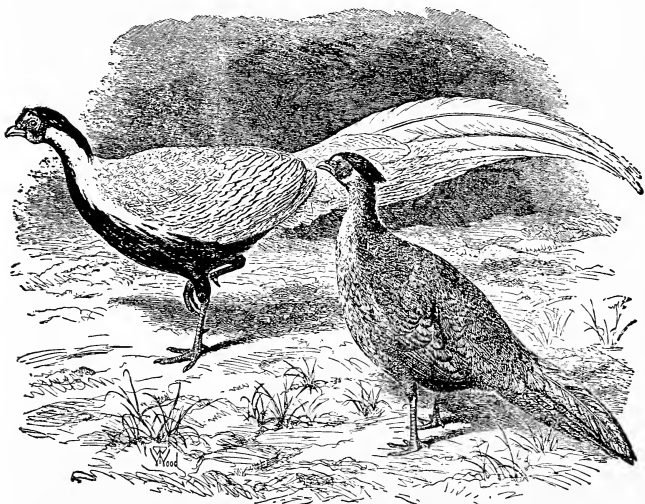

We recommend for a start, the beautifully plumaged Golden Pheasant, the gorgeous Lady Amherst, the Silver Pheasant and the Ringneck. They are easily kept, good layers and reasonable in price. When you get started with these then, there are many other rarer varieties.

GOLDEN PHEASANT

The Golden is the King of Pheasants—the most brilliantly plumaged bird in the world. The rich red breast, yellow chest, orange and black cape, with the yellow, blue and green back rival the rainbow. These birds thrive anywhere, breed readily and lay abundantly.

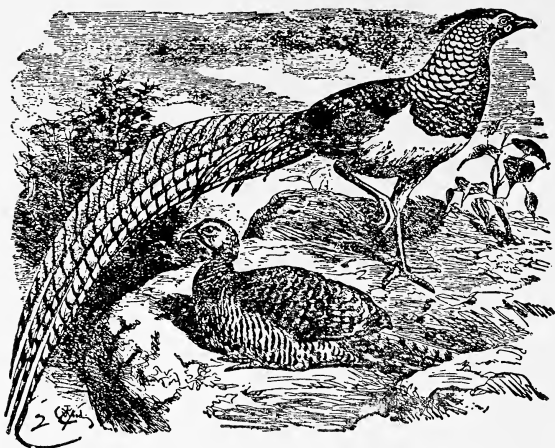

Price per pair, extra choice, full plumaged, $30.00. Eggs, $10.00 per dozen.

SILVER PHEASANT

The Silver can be recommended in the highest term to the beginner. It is very hardy, and may be given liberty as freely as domestic poultry. The cocks' back and wings are white, lined and edged with black; breast and underparts purplish black. He has a black crest and bright red wattles. The hens lay from 30 to 60 eggs each season. The young mature quickly.

Price, per pair, extra choice, $30.00. Eggs, per dozen $10.00.

LADY AMHERST

The cock has a bright red crest, cape of pure white with black edging, green breast changing to white, wing coverts of brilliant blue and green, tail coverts of light yellow and bright orange feathers prolonged into a gray barred tail often a yard long. These birds are large, hardy and easy to rear.

Price, per pair, extra choice, $37.50. Eggs $12.00 per dozen.

ENGLISH RINGNECK

The English Ringneck is the common pheasant, running wild in many parts of this country. It is active, large, hardy and prolific. The male bird is brilliantly plumaged.

Price, per pair, extra choice, $12.00, extra hens $7.00. Eggs, per dozen, $5.00.

PEACOCK

Nothing attracts more attention or lends distinction to the home, than a pair of beautiful peafowl strutting about the lawn. Anyone interested in beautifying his home grounds should have a pair of these magnificent birds. They are easily kept, adults being fed like domestic poultry. The peahen will steal her nest and successfully rear her chicks.

Price extra choice breeding pairs, $75.00.

We can supply other varieties of pheasants and peafowl. Write for prices.

Nothing enhances the beauty of a landscape as a bit of open water, however small. The attractiveness of the water is greatly increased by the presence of waterfowl.

We list those which appeal

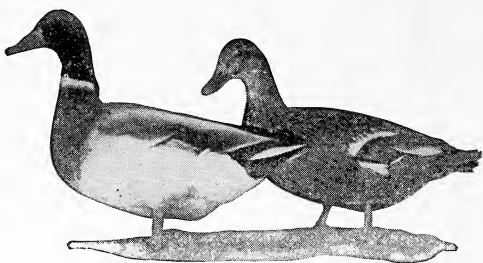

most strongly to us. A common error is that these birds require a large area of water. It is really astonishing upon how small a pool they will seem completely at home. We recommend the Canadian Goose, the Mallard, Pintail and Teal ducks. We can also supply the rare Wood duck, the Mandarin, Canvasback and many other varieties.

CANADA GOOSE

This is the great wild goose of America. It can be bred in captivity as easily as the domestic goose. They will not breed until they are three or four years old. Yearlings make good decoys.

Old Breeders, $36.50 per pair, one year old, $22.00 per pair.

MALLARD DUCK

These are the genuine wild mallard ducks, make the best decoys and are hardy, good layers and a ready breeder. The best duck for the beginner.

Price per pair, $3.00, per trio, $4.00; Eggs $2.50 per 12.

GREENWING TEAL

Teal are the pigmies of the duck family. Their small size suits them for pets and for those who have but little space.

Greenwing and Bluewing Teal, each, $10.00 per pair.

PINTAIL DUCKS

Pintails are large robust birds which winter successfully with very little shelter. They tame quickly and breed readily in captivity. The male birds are very pretty.

Price per pair, $9.00.

Guarantee-We guarantee safe live arrival on all birds. Out of each dozen eggs we guarantee six live chicks or we will replace eggs at one-half price.

Quotations subject to change and prior sale. Eggs should be reserved immediately so as to insure their arrival when you are ready for them.
